BRIGHTGREENFUTURE

Young people are needed to take part in Bright Green Future, a training programme to create a new generation of environmental leaders

We're looking for exceptional future leaders aged 14-17 with an interest in making a real difference to reducing the impacts of climate change to take part in our one year programme starting in September 2018.

Being a part of Bright Green Future will provide the knowledge, skills and confidence to embark on a career path which could influence decisions on energy and climate change.

This exciting opportunity is open for registration now. Participants will carry out activities including:

Training and learning - both face to face and online training sessions covering various topics on sustainability, environmental leadership and green careers

Mentoring - from a member of staff at the Centre for Sustainable Energy

Work placement - a work placement at a professional organisation affecting local or national energy policy such as local authorities, governmental agencies, or environmental and landscape planning bodies

Local projects - running simple low carbon projects such as a school eco-day or green week, providing local home energy advice, energy auditing, carrying out desk based renewable energy studies, making a short film or many more

Residential course - a four day summer school to meet other participants and take part in workshops, talks and activities Bright Green Future is managed by the Centre for Sustainable Energy (CSE), an established and respected energy charity with a huge range of experience in delivering projects that support people to reduce their energy use, providing resources to help community energy projects to develop, researching impacts of energy policy and much more. CSE staff will be on hand to support and mentor participants throughout the duration of the programme.

Data Protection Notice

Dear Parent/Carer

As you may already know, on 25th May 2018 the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) will come into force. This will replace the Data Protection Act 1998 and is intended to improve the safety and security of personal data held by organisations, and make sure that people understand what information is held about them and why.

We have always taken great care of the personal information we hold about pupils and parents, but the new law means that we are taking some further steps, and we want to tell you about these.

1. Firstly, you should be aware that you have a number of rights under the GDPR. You have the right to:

- * Be informed about how we use your personal data.
- * Request access to the personal data that we hold.
- * Request that your personal data is amended if it is inaccurate or incomplete.
- * Ask us to erase your personal data if there is no compelling reason for its continued processing.
- * Request that the processing of your data is restricted.
- * Object to your personal data being processed.

2. On our website you will find our new privacy notice for pupils and parents www.stokepark.coventry.sch.uk which explains in detail what personal data we hold, why we hold it and who we share it with. This also provides details of our Data Protection Officer (DPO) schoolDPO@warwickshire.gov.uk who provides us with advice on compliance with GDPR and our data protection obligations, and can be contacted if you wish to make a request or complaint about your personal data. The privacy notice also explains about your rights to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office.

3. We are reviewing our policies and procedures. A new Data Protection and Freedom of Information Policy will be published on the school's website, which can be accessed on www.stokepark.coventry.sch.uk.

4. If anyone's personal data is likely to be significantly involved or affected when we develop new systems or introduce new technology, we will carry out a data protection impact assessment to ensure that privacy issues are addressed.

5. Your consent - we have made some changes to our data collection sheet and a general consent form to bring us in line with the new law. This means that we may have to ask you to consent to things again in September.

If you would like any more information about GDPR, you can visit the Information Commissioner's website and in particular the Guide to the General Data Protection Regulation webpage.

Yours sincerely,

PJ Thomas

Executive Headteacher
